2,000 RAIL MEN IN KANSAS CITY TO STRIKE TODAY

Radical Elements In Brotherhood Responsible For Order.

STRIKE WILL TIE UP MUCH COAL NEEDED IN WEST

National Issues Not Involved In Grievances, Federal Agent Says

Kansas City, Nov. 29.—Two thousand railroad trainmen and yardmen of Kansas City are to go on strike at 4 o'clock this afternoon, according to an announcement by local Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen officials.

All of the demands entering Kansas City will be affected, with the possible exception of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific. The strike vote was taken at an early hour this morning.

W. M. Gubert, president of the Kansas City terminal and the government railroad representative here, said he was doing everything he could to keep the terminal men from striking. It was said the strike would result from local grievances and it was hinted that a radical element among the railroad workers was responsible for its issuance.

Union officials of the trainmen said the national issues of the railroad being discussed at Cleveland had no part in the strike.

A strike of trainmen here would tie up coal shipments for a great part of the southwest.

Only men working in the yards of the two Kansas Cities are involved in the strike and chairmen of roadmen, members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen working out of Kansas City, were making great efforts today to avert the local walkout.

Whether members of the local switchmen's union will also strike is not certain.

If the men carry out their purpose it will mean that Kansas City and surrounding territory will be left practically without fuel as none can be moved without the aid of the switchmen.

SOLONS READY FOR ASSEMBLY OPENING

Columbus, Nov. 29.—Both Republicans and Democrats were ready today for the convening Monday of the adjourned session of the legislature.

Taxation and prohibitions enforcement legislation promise to be the principal subject of debate when the lawmakers resume their activity, although the high bill will come in for its share of consideration when requests are made for increased salaries for state employees. Indications are that the adjourned session will last from two to four months.

LABOR CONGRESS ACTS TO PROTECT MOTHERS

Washington, Nov. 29.—Women wage earners, including those engaged in commercial and industrial work, would be indemnified for time lost during child birth under a convention adopted today by the international labor conference for submission to the various governments for approval.

The convention is originally drafted was amended so that reimbursement would be paid by the state or "by means of a system of insurance."

Adjournment of the international labor conference was set for today.

Headquarters of the conference will be established at the seat of the League of Nations. The program mapped out here will be carried out under the supervision of Albert Thomas, French labor leader, who yesterday was chosen director-general of the international labor office.

FUEL SHORTAGE CLOSES PLANT IN CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Nov. 29.—Word of the first closing of an industrial plant in the Cincinnati district as a result of the coal shortage reached the Cincinnati coal distribution committee today.

The plant was that of the Richardson company, paper manufacturers, which used 250 tons daily. As a result of the shutdown about 700 persons are out of employment.

The condition of many other large industries, so far as their fuel supply is concerned is daily growing more precarious.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO BE GIVEN TUESDAY

Washington, Nov. 29.—President Wilson's message to congress will not be transmitted until Tuesday, it was said today at the White House. It is expected to cover a wide range of subjects with particular attention to the industrial situation.

The President has been working on the message for two weeks, dictating to a stenographer in his sick room.

Because of his illness, the President will find it necessary to depend on his custom of delivering his message in person.

U. S. MINE SWEEPERS PASS IN REVIEW BEFORE NAVY SECRETARY

Mine sweepers passing in review and (inset) Secretary Daniels pinning Croix de Guerre on Roy Messanelli for his valorous work with the fleet.

The American mine-sweeping fleet recently paraded up the North river in gala attire before Secretary of the Navy Daniels, who reviewed the craft. The fifty-nine vessels of the fleet form the last unit of the navy to return from war service in foreign waters.

The sweepers picked up and destroyed 25,000 mines. The work was of a most hazardous kind, the men facing death momentarily.

HUNGER STRIKE HAS COLLAPSED

Radicals at Ellis Island Prompt to Respond to Call For Breakfast Today—Silence Also Is Broken.

New York, Nov. 29.—The hunger strike of the Ellis Island "Soviet" was broken today. All but five of the 68 radicals who had refused to eat, since last Monday evening eagerly answered the call to the dining room for breakfast.

After a five day fast they were ravenous and were first in the immigrants dining hall. They devoured French, mush, bread, substitute butter and coffee and asked for more. Second helpings were refused, however, not only because one was considered adequate but the radicals might have made themselves ill by eating too much.

Those who continued the hunger strike in an effort to have removed an alien barrier separating them from visitors included Ethel Bernstein and Doris Lipkin, who were arrested in a raid on a New York Russian headquarters. They were the only women on hunger strike.

The silence strike of the 68 also has collapsed. Word that the department of justice was providing the island with eight husky guards to force them to attend deportation hearings before immigration inspectors, was brought to the radicals by their counsel. The guards had not arrived today but the inspectors found no difficulty in getting into the hearing room once they had been identified.

TOLEDO REJECTS PLAN TO OPERATE TROLLEYS

Toledo, O., Nov. 29.—The prospect of restoration of street car service here was dark today, with the city opposed to its plan of Federal Judge Killits for temporary operation at eight cents fare, two cents for transfer.

When the cars were taken into Michigan, the fare was six cents, two cents for transfers. This was an increase from a previous fare of five cents, penny transfer. It was because of this increase that the people voted for an ordinance that led to removal of cars.

With the call for special council meeting to approve temporary operation, little hope of service under the Killits 60-day plan. Henry L. Doherty, owner of the street car system, not only demands the higher fare but the elimination of bus competition.

FRANCE GETS 10 HUN U-BOATS AS HER SHARE

Paris, Nov. 29.—France is to get ten German submarines, the supreme council decided today in continuing its plan of division of the allotment of German naval trophies among the allies. France is allowed this number of submarines, it is explained, because during the war she was unable to build to the extent of others of the allies, her plants being devoted to the making of munitions for the use of all.

The present understanding is that the remainder of the submarines will be broken up. Dispatches from Paris yesterday said the supreme council also had decided that France would get at least five light cruisers and ten torpedo boats for reasons identical with those given in the allotment of the submarines. Italy, it was stated, was like to get a similar allotment of the smaller warships.

GIVES UP $400; THEN SLEEPS

Toledo, Nov. 29.—Comedian to give his money by armed men who entered his bedroom, David Golstein last night reached under his pillow for $400, gave it to the burglars and went back to sleep. He did not report the theft until late this morning.

OHIO GETS WESTERN COLD WAVE SUNDAY

Columbus, Nov. 29.—The first winter storm, which has predominated for two or three days in the west, is due to strike Ohio Sunday, according to announcement by the weather bureau. The forecast, issued today, said:

"Rain tonight, possibly turning to snow in west portion; colder in north and west portions. Sunday local snows and colder; cold wave in west portion."

NEWARK FED UP ON THANKSGIVING

Hunger Pangs Have Not Returned and Saturday Morning Market Is Slow—Prices Remain High.

With the high cost of feasting Newark people are content either to celebrate but once a week or they haven't gotten hungry since Thanksgiving for the usual Saturday market crowd failed to show up this morning. Wednesday was a bad day, too, but they were there all day.

With trading very slow, the market clerks had time to visit this morning and keep their well stocked stalls in fine order. Prices remain about the same. Butter is still 70 and 75 cents a pound and eggs are bringing 15 cents a dozen. There was plenty of head lettuce at 10, 20 and 25 cents a head and the leaf lettuce was 30 cents a pound. Most dealers are selling cranberries at 15 cents a quart, straight, while a few others give two quarts for 25 cents. New cucumbers shipped from Iowa are 30 cents each. Wheat's celery is 10 cents a bunch, and new tomatoes 30 cents a pound.

WOMAN SHOT AS SHE IS BOARDING TRAIN

Cincinnati, Nov. 29.—As she was to step on a street car in Newport, Kentucky, this morning, to go to Cincinnati, to board a train for Chicago, Mrs. Jennie Buckamier, 32, was shot and instantly killed by Edward Wallace, 53, an engineer in a brewery.

Wallace was arrested, but it was impossible to get a statement from him. The woman was enroute to make her home with a brother, Al Huston, in Chicago. A sister and the woman's two children saw her murdered. The police were told that the woman and Wallace quarrelled last night. Mrs. Buckamier was divorced last September.

WARS ARE OVER

Kansas City, Nov. 29.—Speaking at a luncheon here yesterday, Major General Wood, commander of the central department of the army, declared the problems of the country are those of readjustment "now that the wars are over," adding "unless we lose more souls."

CHILD CUTS ARTERY

Marysville, Nov. 29.—A 6-year-old son of Harry Auer accidentally knocked a cut glass vase from a stand, which broke, severing the pulse artery in his right wrist. He lost considerable blood before the wound was sewed up by a physician.

OHIO TEACHERS SEEK MORE PAY

New Association Is Formed On Basis of Elected Representation—Want Minimum Wage Increase.

Columbus, Nov. 29.—Ohio today has two teachers' associations. One is the Ohio Teachers' association and the other is an organization of teachers.

The last named organization was formed here yesterday by 178 delegates to the Ohio Teachers' association. The new organization was decided upon by a majority of only 20 votes. Many declared the two organizations will mean disunion. In the new body all members will be delegates from local organizations, thus being representative in their voting power. The 178 delegates, representing about 9,000 teachers, pointed out that at past meetings if most of those attending came from one section, action taken was bound to be more or less beneficial to that section.

The legislative committee of the Ohio state association decided tentatively to draft a bill setting minimum salaries for all classes of teachers. Salaries of elementary teachers were taken up first. It was urged that elementary teachers of one year's experience be paid a minimum wage of $800 a year and those with two years' experience a minimum of $2,000. Sessions of the Ohio State association were continued today.

OHIO OPERATORS POST NOTICE OF INCREASE

Columbus, Nov. 29.—Walter D. McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio coal operators, today sent out notices to practically all Ohio coal mines that the increase of 14 per cent proposed by the government would be effective at once. He said that it could not be delayed until Tuesday, how many striking coal miners would return to work under the increased wage scale as Saturday afternoon and Sunday are festive in the mines.

No Ohio company, Mr. McKinney said, to his knowledge was guaranteeing the difference between the government scale proposal and the scale which may finally be decided upon.

The following notices are being posted at all mines in southern Ohio:

"The Government of the United States having decided that the mine workers are entitled to a 14 per cent average increase to bring up to date the increased cost of living, this company gives notice that a 14 per cent increase in wages is hereby granted, effective at once. This average percent will be so divided as to preserve present differentials.

MEXICAN ENVOY IS TOLD THAT U. S. DEMANDS ACTION

Secretary Lansing Puts Issue Up To Ambassador In Conference

Arguments Will Not Alter Course Already Outlined

Tells Bonillas Relations Will Be Serious If Demand Is Not Met.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Although denial from Mexico City of the reported fighting there between followers of President Carranza and General Alvaro Obregon, presidential candidate, served to ease the state department today had not altered its determination to enforce the demand for the prompt release of American consular agent Jenkins, imprisoned on charge of collusion with his bandit captors.

Mexico probably will be called upon for a showdown once and for all if the demand for the release of American consular agent remains confined in prison, in what American officials believe are trumped up charges. State department has indicated plainly that diplomatic negotiations will not divert the government from its course of dealing with a serious internal question.

Secretary Lansing in conference with Mexican Ambassador Bonillas yesterday put the issue flatly before him and explained pointedly that the American government had demanded action and is said to have further explained that unless the Mexican government acceded promptly to this country's demands the relations between the two nations necessarily would be seriously affected.

The state department's formal reply to the Carranza message may be delayed several days pending the accumulation of verified facts dealing with the Jenkins case and the Carranza reply to the American ultimatum.

CONFER WITH GOVERNOR ON A PLAN TO PROTECT MEN WHO RESUME WORK

REGARD ACTION FIRST INDICATION OF ATTEMPT TO BREAK STRIKE IN CENTRAL COMPETITIVE FIELD.

ACTION IN OTHER STATES WILL BE PLANNED IN WASHINGTON WEDNESDAY

Mine Owners Assured That Government Will Use Troops To Protect Mines and Miners Who Wish to Return at Increased Wage.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Operators in western Pennsylvania, which is a part of the central competitive field, will meet Governor Spruiell, of Pennsylvania, Monday to discuss plans for protecting miners wishing to return to work, according to information received here today by the operators' committee.

Those in close touch with the situation regard this as the first indication of an attempt to break the strike in the highest organized central field. It was expected that general plans for all four states included in this field would be discussed when the operators' wage scale committee reconvened here Wednesday.

The call for the meeting said the purpose was to harmonize details of the proposed 14 per cent wage advance, but methods of bringing the strike to an end were expected to be the most important subject considered.

The battle ground of the conflict over a new wage scale in the bituminous coal industry, which has centered here during two weeks of fruitless negotiations today shifted to the various fields in all sections of the country.

Operators returning home to at least to secure their mines and ready to resume work, the operators' committee suggested by Fuel Administrator Garfield, received the assurance of the government that troops were ready to protect from organized violence any miners willing to return to work at the same time notice was served that the failure of operators to co-operate with the government in restoring coal production to normal would result in federal control of the properties.

Federal district attorneys have been instructed relative to proceeding against either operators or miners restricting the output of coal, the department of justice simply awaiting developments.

STATE RECEIVER TO OPERATE COAL MINES

Topeka, Kans., Nov. 29.—Preparation for the resumption of coal mining operations in Kansas under a state receivership went forward today with the prospect, according to announcement by Governor Henry J. Allen, that a daily output of 10,000 tons will be realized by the middle of next week, if work can be started promptly.

Approximately 4,000 persons had volunteered their services as coal diggers, state officials said. Among the number, it became known, is a woman, Mrs. Neva Colville, an official of the Young Women's Christian association at Wichita, who has proffered her aid in superintending the cooking to be done for the workers.

Early movement of army supplies and equipment for the volunteers was expected today as a result of a conference here today.

GOVERNORS MAY ACT IF U. S. IS UNABLE TO REVIVE COAL PRODUCTION

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Immediate results in increased production of bituminous coal were not expected today to follow the government's announcement that it proposes to see mining begun and posting at the shafts by the operators of notice of granting of a 14 per cent wage increase. Operators looked upon the latest steps in the miners' strike with optimism, however, and believed that on Monday many workmen would re-enter the mines. Saturday and Sunday generally have been regarded as at least partial holidays in the coal fields, they pointed out.

On the other hand miners' spokesmen generally predicted that few men would return to work under the conditions being added that the offer would be ignored and especially in the great fields of the central competitive area, embracing Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Western Pennsylvania.

Milder weather today over much of the country which for two days past was in the grasp of unseasonably low temperatures brought relief. Many small cities and towns were almost fireless and suffering was imminent.

With radical restrictions on use of fuel in force in many places, notably Kansas City, Omaha and Indianapolis and the entire southern region, state and local officials today considered further means of warding off a famine.

In Kansas Governor Henry J. Allen went ahead with plans for opening up the strip pits Monday. He said 4,000 men had volunteered and he conferred last night at Kansas City with Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the central department of the United States army. Meanwhile the domestic situation in Kansas was described as critical, extremely low temperatures and snow and sleet falls over the entire state making necessary to deliver supplies into short fuel supplies.

Calling of a conference of governors of the coal producing states for Monday or Tuesday at Chicago by Frederick D. Gardner, governor of Missouri today awaited statement of a definite plan of action by the federal government for reopening the mines. Should the government decide to take over the mines, Governor Gardner said, the conference would not be called but otherwise he would issue the call "to see what the governors could do."

Mr. Gardner, who was at Jefferson City today, said he would not under his authority as chairman of the committee on profiteering appointed at the recent meeting of governors at Salt Lake City, Governors of Kansas, Arkansas, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Oklahoma and Tennessee specially would be urged to attend.

New walkouts in the West Virginia fields from which most of the bituminous coal mined since the strike began has come, today threatened to reduce the approximately 40 per cent of normal amount the government said it continued to be brought out in all mines. At various points today there were reports that train service was to be curtailed, but they lacked confirmation either from Walker D. Hines, federal director general of railroads, or railroad directors.

Secretary of War Baker today before him a request from Governor Ferguson of Oklahoma, for troops to be sent into that state in greater numbers who desired to re-enter the mines.

LESSONS IN OPTOMETRY BY O. P. COOK

LESSON SEVEN.
Should a parent wait until a child complains of headaches or of his inability to see as well as other children before having his eyes examined?
No, it is the duty of a parent to remove every obstacle that interferes with his child's success, and to learn as soon as possible the condition of the eyes.
To whom should a child be taken for an examination of the eyes?
To an Optometrist.
Why should only an Optometrist be entrusted with such a duty?
Because his training and equipment enable him to detect and correct all optical deficiencies of both young and old.
Many folks are near-sighted, are they not?
Yes. Optometrists call near-sightedness "myopia." It is caused by nature making the eyeballs longer than they should be. This prevents seeing well in the distance. See next lesson.

WHEN DOES A BATTERY DIE?

"I am often asked," commented Mr. Rodney McFarland, manager of the local "Exide" Service Station, apropos of some talk on the long life of one of his customers' batteries, "I am often asked by you and some of the motorists just how long a starting and lighting battery will last. And frankly I can't tell them. If I could I would occupy a position in the battery world similar to that held by Douglas Fairbanks or Mary Pickford in the 'Movie' sphere."

"The life of a starting and lighting battery—even such a good one as the 'Exide'—is just as uncertain, just as dependent on the care it receives, and of outside influence as that of any poor human machine. Some of us may appear to be in the best of health this week, next week we over-exhaust our constitution and the next week—pink roses—referred to no breathe. Others of us look frail and care worn and yet do and keep on doing when many of our huskier looking acquaintances are being ferried over the well known Styx. It's all more or less a matter of degree with this one exception. You know and I know that the surest way to keep ourselves fit and fine for our work and to preserve the health that old dame nature gave us, to a ripe old age, is by giving ourselves the best of care—to keep regular habits, to restore our tissues with the proper sort of food and drink, to regain expended energy by the proper amount of rest."

"At the storage battery in the automobile is exactly similar. The motorists who get the ultimate best, both of performance and of life, from their batteries are the motorists who give those batteries the best of care. I have known 'Exide' batteries that were in continuous service for three, four, even five years and that they were still hale and hearty. I have known others that were ruined by careless owners in six months."

"No sir, I make no forecast about the life of any battery. But I will say that if I'm given the care of a battery from the very start, given it regularly and unreservedly, I will be pretty apt to get out of it every ounce of performance and lifetime the manufacturer put into it."

POULTRY GAME MAY LURE UNCLE ROBBIE AWAY FROM THE GREAT NATIONAL PASTIME

Wilbert Robinson in his winter role, helping out in his poultry market.

From time to time rumors have emanated from the east that Uncle Wilbert Robinson, well-known manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is to retire from baseball. 'Tis said he will devote his time the year around to the egg and poultry establishment which he is financially interested. Uncle Wilbert won't discuss the rumor—which makes it better than ever for stove league discussion.

Ira Roy Heidler, 29 years old, enlisted in the navy today at the local navy recruiting station, 8 West Main street. He was formerly a fireman on the B. & O. railroad here. Judge Haven heard a motion for a new trial in the case of T. Alfred Fleming et al., vs. Joseph Giorgetti, et al., a suit to vacate a default judgment.

Catherine Horvath vs. John Armstrong. Motion for a new trial overruled, and the statutory time allowed for a bill of exceptions, on behalf of the plaintiff.

FORMER NEWARK MAN HEADS CHARITY PLAN

Revival of the ancient custom of Christmas caroling has been made to provide a double community service by Charles H. Morath, a former Newark man located in Kalamazoo, Mich.

The Kalamazoo Advertising league has made Morath chairman of a general committee of citizens to put his idea into practice this year, whereby the city's charity will benefit Morath has suggested the plan's adoption in Newark as a hospital benefit.

Under the arrangement to be carried out in the Michigan city, carolers will sing in every neighborhood during the early hours of Christmas morning, bringing the message of Christmas as a cheerful awakening for the slumberers. Donations will be received by the singers and this money will constitute a fund to be devoted to charitable work among tots in the community.

Morath has appointed several committees and has offered to give Newark citizens full details of the organization plan for use here.

NAVY SCORES 3 POINTS ON KICK

Goal From Placement Gives Midshipmen Lead In Second Period of Annual Army—Navy Clash.

Polo Grounds, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Navy sprung a surprise in the second period when King kicked a field goal from Army's 23 yard line, making the score Navy 3, Army 0. The kick was made from a scrimmage placement the ball being held by Captain Even. The period ended with Navy in the lead by 3 points. There was not a moment of silence during the first two periods. The fact that the navy had the edge on the play only seemed to rouse the cadets to greater frenzy while the mid-dies roared themselves hoarse.

The cadets introduced an innovation with the firing of a small fire piece at the opening of each period. Between the halves Secretary Daniels, wearing a soft felt hat, advanced to the center of the rainsoaked field where he was met by Secretary Baker, his silk hat drenched by the rain. With Mr. Baker were Generals Pershing and March and after the exchange of courtesies in mild form, representatives of the army paid a visit to the navy stands where they were greeted by the mid-dies with their traditional songs and cheers.

The purpose of the two visit was that the losers of the first half might congratulate the winners on their field goal.

SOLDIERS ASK MAYOR TO REMOVE CHIEF

Youngstown, Nov. 29.—A statement from Mayor A. W. Craver was being awaited today concerning the request of the American Legion presented last yesterday for the removal from office of Chief of Police James Watkins and the resignation of the police force.

Newspapermen were barred from the meeting at which the request was made but members of the legion said it was based on discoveries made by legion members acting as special police during the steel strike. They declared that evidence of collusion between the police and resorts were found and that the police tried to "frame" soldier officers who "found out too much."

Mayor Craver yesterday reinstated two legion police who had been removed from the force by Chief Watkins.

NEWBERRY JURY IS NOT READY TO REPORT

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 29.—No reports came this morning from the federal grand jury which is investigating the Newberry senatorial campaign of 1918. The only indication that a return might be imminent was the fact that when the jury adjourned for luncheon it announced that would reconvene a few hours later than usual, at the custom. There was rumor about the federal building that the investigation might extend over to next week, but this received no authoritative backing.

The Right Battery for YOUR Car

Every car needs a certain particular type of battery to fit the other electrical equipment the car builder put on it.

Don't go to some one who'll sell you "any old battery"—because he hasn't your particular size and type in stock. Come to the Authorized Willard Service Station where we carry a complete stock, and can sell you the one battery that your car needs.

PATTON TO OPEN BIG RESTAURANT

Canfield's, Famous Once As Gambling Place, Is Purchased By Former Newark Man.

Canfield's, in New York, at one time probably the world's most luxurious gambling place, has been purchased outright, with all its gorgeous fittings, by a corporation headed by J. G. Patton, a former Newark man, and will be opened to the public early in January as "Restaurant Le Trianon."
 Patton many years ago conducted a drug store at Third and West Main street, now occupied by the Home Building Association, from which that corner became known generally throughout the community as "Patton's corner."
 Patton is proprietor, also, of Cafe Le Trianon, called "the bright spot" or "Philadelphia" by the New York press, of which Patton is president, is opening a chain of restaurants in the metropolis, two of which are under construction. The same company will operate Le Trianon, Cherl, Inc., of Pennsylvania, is operating five chain restaurants.
 Canfield's is located at 5 West 44th street and has been one of New York's show places for years. It is here that many a millionaire has wooed the goddess Chance amid the most luxurious surroundings. The place has been closed several years but the fittings remain, except the gambling paraphernalia, to furnish the decorations for the new restaurant.

SHOOTS WOMAN; GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE HER

Washington, Nov. 29.—Mrs. Florence Robinson, comely young matron, lying near death in a hospital, and Grover Gordon, a little more than a youth, who because he said he loved her yesterday shot the woman through the body and who for the same reason was given twelve hours later kept her alive by giving her blood for transfusion to her veins, today were the principals in one of the most remarkable crime incidents in Washington police history.
 Following a jealous quarrel recently Gordon yesterday went to the home of the young woman, who some time ago had separated from her husband to bid him good-bye, as he expected to leave that day for his old home in Wheeling, W. Va., as she stood in his embrace, Gordon fired a revolver shot through her body.
 After his arrest last night Gordon was told that Mrs. Robinson would be unless some one speedily volunteered to submit to the blood transfusion. He eagerly offered himself and requested only that if the patient still were conscious that she be told of his action.
 Physicians today said it was too early to say whether the operation would save Mrs. Robinson's life. In the meantime the police were wondering what the effect would be should the woman who Gordon had tried to kill should be saved from death through his own sacrifice of blood.

FOOTBALL CLAIMS FIVE THIS YEAR

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Football, the roughest of American outdoor sports, claimed five victims during the 1919 season, which practically closed with Thanksgiving day games, according to reports to the Associated Press today. The number of deaths the lowest in years, was five less than 1918 and seven under the toll of two years ago. There were 18 lives lost during the 1916 season, and 16 in 1915.
 Development of the open style of play, to supplant the dangerous smothering game, is mainly responsible for the decreasing number of fatalities, in the opinion of gridiron experts.
 The list of victims include Calvin Libbisher, Urbana, Ohio, 17 years old, died September 29 from cerebral injuries sustained in a high school game.

WOULD HAVE STATUTE REQUIRING GRAVE STONES

Relatives who squabble over estates of departed kinsmen and refuse to erect a grave marker for their benefactor have no sympathy from Mrs. Hannah Allen, chief deputy of probate court.
 "The law should require administrators to erect grave markers," Mrs. Allen says, "and then if the relatives wish to erect some more imposing kind of monument, they may do so. In too many instances the tendency is to let the deceased except to quarrel over his estate. We have instances, also, in which only a small substance is left by the departed one, all of which the relatives want to spend in putting up a great imposing monument. Both extremes should be regulated by a provision of law."

U. S. Gold in Flowery Kingdom A Seed of Faith For Godless Flower of Youth

A "Little Mother" of Japan

Ninety Per cent. of Graduates of Japan's Government Schools Found to Be Without Religious Belief—Episcopalian Budget Allots $4,000,000 for Missionary Work.
 Establishing more schools in Japan seems to be a case of supererogation, like "carrying coals to Newcastle." Yet that is what the Episcopal Church proposes to do through its Nation-wide Campaign.
 Ninety-eight per cent. of Japan's children between the ages of six and twelve attend school—a record that few, if any, Occidental countries can equal. They attend the Japanese public schools. And there's the rub.
 The Japanese government forbids the teaching of any sort of religion in the schools, and the youth and maidenhood of Japan are growing up devoid of any belief—even in Buddhism and Shintoism. It has been estimated by those who prepared the survey of Episcopal needs in Japan for the Nation-wide Campaign program that ninety per cent. of the graduates of Japanese government colleges are without religious faith.
 The Episcopal Church maintains twenty-five educational institutions, aside from twenty-three kindergartens, in the two missionary districts of Japan, where it has limited its activities—Tokio and Kyoto—and through the Nation-wide Campaign will receive an appropriation of $1,262,500 to build twenty-five more schools. The government does not permit religious teachings in these schools and additional quarters for the religious exercises which are an essential feature of Christian missions must be obtained elsewhere.
 The Episcopal Nation-wide Campaign is raising a fund in excess of $42,000,000 to build more churches, missions, schools, hospitals, orphanages, parish houses, colleges, and social service centers. Of this sum, $4,150,029 has been allotted to Episcopal activities in Japan.
 The kindergartens established in Japan by the Episcopal Church have been very popular and there is an urgent call for more. The director of the first one established there had the fists of angry fathers been shaken under his nose—not because they objected to kindergartens where Christian doctrines were taught, but simply because there was not enough room to receive government children. The number of kindergartens maintained in Japan by the Episcopal Church is now twenty-three and this number will be greatly increased as a result of the Nation-wide Campaign.
 It is practically only through the children that the principles of Christian democracy can gain a foothold in Japan—a fact which adds immensely to the importance of the Episcopal kindergarten program. There are but 125,000 Protestant Christian church members in Japan out of 54,000,000 inhabitants, and if Japan, the educational, financial, military and industrial leader of the Orient, is to be saved from a crass materialism, which is the negation of Christianity, the Church must put more vigor into its work among the children than it has heretofore done.
 A million dollars of the Nation-wide Campaign appropriation for Japan is for a new building for St. Barnabas's Hospital at Osaka. St. Luke's Hospital, at Tokio, is in excellent condition, and is famed as the greatest hospital in the Orient. Nearly a million dollars has been appropriated for the maintenance of the present staff of workers and for the additional ones to be sent to Japan as a result of the Campaign.

COURT IS ASKED TO END "INFLUENCE"

Court Officer John Dwyer sent the lads back to their homes in Zanesville Friday night after one had complained that he was "afraid" of the other. Starlin accompanied Smith to Newark in search of work, they said. Dwyer found them at a house in East Newark when Starlin complained that Smith "kept following him."

A PROGRESSIVE PROGRAM.

At a chamber of commerce meeting in a well known city the other day, the following improvement suggestions were advanced:

- 1-Planting of trees and shrubbery along roads entering town.
- 2-An arboretum, or tree collection, with specimens of trees native to the United States, to be used in part as a memorial to the war heroes. (Granville now has an arboretum containing a great number of trees.)
- 3-Campaign with property owners to secure removal or improvement of shabby buildings.
- 4-Cleansing of streams from town sewage and factory effluents.
- 5-More parks and playgrounds.
- 6-A community center.

In thousands of cities and towns, progressive people are getting together and outlining similar improvement campaigns. And it is a good idea not to work for two many objects at once. A similar six headed program would be fine for Newark and at least four of the objects named above would be equally desirable here. Industrial development is of course the thing the public most desires but a program of this sort would have a tendency to promote that very thing.

LIVING CLOSER TOGETHER.

Any man with his eyes open for the signs of the times must feel that the existing social chasms are very dangerous. They are like the deep crevasses in the Alpine snows, which widening under the ascending sun, let loose the avalanche.

No longer can people of large wealth shut themselves up in their palaces, and ignore those who live in hovels. People have got to learn to live more on a level, closer together, and with more intimate relationship with each other.

A great deal of social unrest is of course due to pure envy. The poor man sees the rich man in his elegant limousine. If he be of a bitter and resentful temperament, he swears that he is going to pull the rich man down. He does not stop to ask whether the rich man may not have earned the limousine by his superior efficiency in service.

But careless, lavish, and selfish spending money tends terribly to widen the social chasms. The people who have great incomes ought to consider that these exceptional blessings are given them in trust by the community. In after providing for themselves a comfortable and abundant life, they ought to be willing either to render their service at a lower price of to give large sums to public philanthropies.

The money that a rich man wastes in luxurious extravagance would not be sufficient, if divided among the public, to reduce the average cost of living by more than a trifle. But the selfish spirit displayed creates bad feeling. There won't be a good spirit of community co-operation, until people of large wealth cut out all unfair grabbing for money, and make a generous return for the opportunities that society permits them.

DARK HORSE MAY WIN.

(Ohio State Journal)

There are some prospects that a Republican dark horse will figure in the presidential conventions next year. One would not think that were possible, considering the names that are already prominently mentioned. There are, in the order of prominence just now, General Wood, Governor Lowden, Senator Johnson, Mr. Taft, Senator Pendergast, Senator Harding, Mr. Hughes and a few others less prominent. It is always an interesting time when there is a dark horse prancing around in the outskirts, hoping to get in, but he is the last one mentioned. There is little hope of his winning the prize until in the last heat he makes a dash and wins the race.

The last big dark horse convention we had was in 1855, when John Sherman led the ballot but soon gave way to Gresham, Depew, Alger, Harrison and Allison. There were eight ballots when Harrison was nominated by a vote of 54. Plain fighting in this election, but his friends could not rally enough votes to make a good showing. This was the convention where McKinley received a big vote, which constantly increased until he finally arose in the convention and told his friends that they must stop voting for him, since he was there as a delegate for John Sherman.

There seemed to have been some opposition to McKinley's nomination, which has not been generally understood, but which may come out some of these days as a part of Ohio's political history. The writer was a member of that convention and saw how McKinley won the most eloquent and graceful piece of oratory he ever uttered.

WHAT IS BEING READ.

(Boston Globe)

When people have been through some of the experiences of this war, they know the effect of it on their minds. Mostly they cannot or will not tell. But hints can be picked up from what they say, and often from what they read. The world has been through a terrific experience. It is difficult to guess what effect it has left on our minds as a whole. Some of the events which are happening around us give indications of what that effect has been. And there are hints to be obtained by knowing what the public is reading.

At the New York public library the records show certain significant trends in the sort of books now most in demand. Except for youngsters at the romantic age, war books are going to the discard. In the reaction against the four years of horrors, people who like light reading are going in for detective stories and light novels. More serious minds are prying into the subject of the war, and this is especially true of people who have been bereaved by the war.

There has also been a quickening of interest in books on religion—not religion as traditionally understood, but the religion that the war has brought with them from the trenches, and the relationship between Christianity and our present social problems.

Books on economic questions are in great demand, everything from information about South American trade to labor conditions. It is worth noting in this connection that books dealing with the old-fashioned sociology now excite little interest. The ones which are being called for are those which set forth comprehensive economic theories of society.

What these symptoms in the reading public indicate are for anybody to interpret as he will. The evidence is quite interesting enough without attempts at explanation.

TREATY RESERVATIONS.

(Philadelphia Record)

We honor Senator McCumber for his patriotism and statesmanship in voting for the peace treaty without reservations, and we are sorry to see him defending the reservations and saying that they will have to be accepted or the treaty will never be ratified. It would be better to leave the treaty unratified than to ratify it with reservations that we recognize no obligations thereunder. Reservations that are merely declaratory of the views of the senate might be accepted, but reservations that repudiate the agreements to which they are attached are worse than futile.

The rules of prudence in general, like the laws of the stone tablets, are for the most part, prohibitive. Thou shalt not, is their characteristic formula, and it is an essential part of Christian prudence that it should be so.—Cokeridge.

Her Husband.

And she some gentle animal
To her for life will bind,
And make him follow at her call,
For she is just that kind.

A Ferocious Beast.

Aunt Caline says: "Tother day little Annie Gramam come over to spend the day with me so I got kind o' tired an' put her things on an' told her to go out an' play in the back yard a spell. But it wasn't no time skursely afore she come back in the house. 'Don't you like our yard, Annie?' says I. 'Yes, ma'am, Aunt Caline,' says she. 'I like it reel well,' says she, 'offe polly.' 'Why didn't you stay out then an' get some good fresh air?' says I. 'Well, Aunt Caline,' she says, 'I were afraid o' that cow over in the next yard.' says she. 'Why Annie, I'm surprised at you,' says I. 'That's our good Rosie which gives you the good milk you had for your dinner,' I says. 'She won't hurt you at all,' says I. 'Well, Aunt Caline,' she wouldn't, she says, 'but anyway she showed me her hooks an' eyes threw the fence,' says she.

An Expensive Bird.

Speaking of Thanksgiving turkey, a bird in the hand seems to have cost a great deal more than it's worth this year.

Did You Know

That "Mother Goose" was written by Charles Perrault? It was first published in 1697, under the name of his infant son. The earliest known edition which bears the name of "Mother Goose's Melodies," was printed in 1719 by T. Fleet at his Printing-house, Pudding Lane. Mrs. Goose was an actual person, was born at Boston Massachusetts, and was the mother-in-law of Fleet, who collected the verses in part from her recitation.

Long Suffering.

Once said a spotted giraffe,
Whose neck was a mile and a half,
"My only desire is
To have tonsillitis.
But it hurts me like hell when I laugh."
—California Pelican.

There once was an invalid snake,
Who said, "I know not what to take:
One can't tell tonsillitis
From a touch of colitis.
When one cannot set bounds to his ache."

Horsey!
What is that spot?
Why, bless my soul!
If it is not
A grain of coal!
—Luke McLuke.

Ah yes; but what
A splendid treat
To see a spot
That tasted sweet.

Her Complexion.

The dainty color comes and goes
Upon her cheeks, now white, now pink:
Just where it goes nobody knows.
It comes out of a box.

A lot of that fine powder goes
To take the shine from off her nose.
While other portions, so to speak,
Are plastered on her lovely cheek.

But where it vanishes from there
I certainly don't know, I swear,
But I suspect the breeze, oh my,
Must brush it off in passing by.

But if the true facts you would know
About face powder, sir, please go
To my pal Bill, for believe me,
He knows that stuff from A to Z.

XII.—Piqued Interest.

"Let's make Tom dine with Captain Pennington and us tonight," suggested Keitha, as they rose from the luncheon table.

"I sure would like to," declared Captain Moore. "But I've got a half-date with my girl."

"Oh Tom," reproached Keitha, "another? And you told me I would always be the only woman in your life! What faithless creatures men are!"

"Speaking of faithless—" Captain Moore suggested softly with a level glance into Keitha's blue eyes.

She laughed softly and touched his arm lightly with her slim white-gloved hand.

"Bring your girl along. I'd adore to know her and I will give you such nice references."

"Oh no you don't," corrected Moore quickly. "One look at you and I'd be the rest of life explaining to her that our affair was purely platonic. But I'd like very much to bring her to dine with you and Les if you'll just not mention that I used to love you in the sweet by and by—and we've been using to love you!" he breathed with a wink at Keitha and a slight motion toward Captain Bennett, who was lighting a cigarette, extremely bored and indifferent.

Keitha's eyes were dancing. She was following Moore's lead, conscious of the fact that they were annoying Bennett. It had been two years since she was deliberately flirted and she was really fond of Tom Moore.

The details of the dinner party were finally arranged, Keitha promising to phone an invitation to Moore's fiancée after he had introduced her by wire.

Keitha broke the strain with a quick laugh.

"Oh, you've never seen me flirt before," she said mischievously.

He reached over and encircled her waist in a whole sentence down.

"No, and I never want to see you do it again."

"Oh everything is quite all right. He doesn't care—really," Keitha assured him.

"Doesn't, eh?" Moore gave her a searching glance. "I might have said so once. But not now."

"I want to do you mean?" asked Keitha, puzzled.

"Nothing. I'm a fool," said Moore quickly. "Forget it!"

He waved adieu as Bennett put Keitha into a taxi.

"Good bye old top," said Moore to the taxi.

"See you at 7:30," he called blithely.

Captain Bennett muttered something which sounded to Keitha suspiciously like "see you in hell," but he turned a smiling face to the young wife.

"Any place special you want to go?" Keitha shook her head.

"I'm a trifle weary. It's rather hot today, don't you think?"

MILADY'S FURS

Picking the All-American Team

BY RING W. LARDNER

To the Editor of the Advocate:

The other day the newspaper publishers from all over the U. S. met in N. Y. city and disgust the shortages of white paper which is said to be reached the stage and they all give their word that from now on they wouldn't use no more of it then was necessary and wouldn't fudge it but they hadn't no sooner then broke up their meeting and went home when pretty near every male voter on the Atlantic sea board begin laying their plans to publish a All American football team, and the country is bounded on the west by the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh and some of the highest authorities in New Jersey and N. Y. state claims that the prohibition amendment is unconstitutional because the congressmen from Ohio and Mich. was allowed to vote on it. A great many New Yorkers stayed away from the world series in Cincy last Oct. and the world farcial in Toledo last July on the grounds that they was no ballers and last summer when that big balloon fell into the bank out in Chi I of the N. Y. papers didn't feel like it wanted to pay cable tolls on a long story so it said "a big balloon fell through the roof of a bank out in old Chi yesterday and some of the clerks was so surprised that they had to add up their coils a 2d. time."

West Getting More Mention

But in regard to football another westerner that lives here told me the other day that the sporting editors around here was giving the west a whole lot better play then they use to, as all they use to print was the wrong score of the game between the colleges that was going to meet the following Saturday but now you can pick up a N. Y. or Boston paper pretty near any Monday A. M. and after you have read the 2 coils, about Harvard and Yale and the rest of 'em, you'll find a whole sentence down at the bottom the situation in the west like for inst.

"In the west Ohio and Oregon still remains undefeated" like they was right across the bridge from each other and the rivalry between them was so bitter that the state militia was going to act as head linemen when they met.

But getting back to the All America nicks 1 or 2 of the democratic ones were the last few yrs. been subscribing every fall to some western paper like Jim Jam Jems so as they could keep a line on football out in the territories and if they seen one bird's name mentioned a couple of times in a story they would write him down for substitution guard on the 3d. All America and on 1 occasion 1 of the most notorious and respected critics in the east who made a practice of reading the western papers like I said most of thought the in Memoriam col. was the best of the game, at least when his selections come out that fall the tackle on the 2d. team was a U. of Nebraska man who had been dead 2 yrs.

This yr. I don't know who the lucky westerner will be though judging by the conversation amongst the experts I have met they would be glad to take Brandy from Notre Dame or anywhere else.

As I say my admirers has been after me to pick a All America but on acct. of the print paper situation I have not got the heart but will try and mollify my readers to some extent by giving my impressions of the different between the east and west and out there which is bound to be interesting some from a man that has just landed on U. S. soil to take up my abode to say nothing of the way I can write.

And the Dean of the College Ast Us To Eat on His Porch.

The coaches say that if, coming off you look forward to it as something you are going to enjoy, but here everybody takes their wives along. They usually all so take a basket lunch, as most of the games is played in towns where the restaurant closes up for 2 hours at noon so as the prop. can go home and eat. I was on a party that went to the Harvard game that day and the gals brought fried chicken and sandwiches and doughnuts and medium boiled eggs and Demon Rumsen, and the Dean of the college ast us to eat on his porch and I bet when he seen the growth of egg shells and chicken bones on his lawn afterwards he was tickled to death that nobody had brought water meins.

When you go to game out west you walk in through a gate but at New Haven you enter through a portal. In old Chi or Ann Arbor you tell the usher the letter of your section but in Princeton you tell him the number of your room.

By the time you have clumb the long long trail to your seat you don't feel like ramping no more that afternoon. In Minneapolis or Iowa City you can set in the stand and see 22 men down there on the field trying to play football but from where I set in the Yale bowl I thought a bunch of coolies was amusing themselves at the expense of a good-natured bumble bee which I seen in the papers after wards was I don't know who the lucky westerner will be though judging by the conversation amongst the experts I have met they would be glad to take Brandy from Notre Dame or anywhere else.

As for the game itself the rules is a whole lot different like for inst. when a eastern player is caught slugging he is put out of the field where as when Notre Dame and Nebraska hooks in the slugs is the ones that leaves the battle usually on a stretcher. The eastern game is a whole lot more intricate. For inst. before you enter the portal to the ramp, they sell you a program for $1.50 and inside is the names of all the players with their numbers opp. their name but when the players comes out on the field they are wearing their numbers on the bottom of their socks and on the only time you know who they are is when I of them takes off his shoes to kick or

OBITUARY

Col. William C. Wells.
Tribute to the memory of William C. Wells was paid this morning when in a pouring rain friends from every section of the city, people from every walk of life, assembled at the Second Presbyterian church. A great bank of beautiful flowers at the altar further testified to the esteem in which Colonel Wells was held.

The burial service was conducted by Rev. B. R. Wells and by the Order of Eulke of which Colonel Wells was exalted ruler, after which the casket was carried to the grave in Cedar Hill cemetery. It is not fulsome praise to say that Colonel Wells—everybody called him "Colonel"—was one of Newark's foremost and most best liked men. For more than a quarter of a century he gave most of his time and all of his energy to his home town. He was active in every enterprise that meant development for Newark. He was always to be depended upon in every work of charity. He always gave freely—many times too liberally—of his own means. He had a kind word for all, a helping hand for everybody. It is therefore no wonder that the whole community mourns his departure. He will be remembered always by those who knew him as a man who did his part in every good work. Colonel Wells did much for Newark and he helped to cheer the lives of many people who call this city their home.

Master Charles W. Owens, who died a year ago Nov. 30, 1913:
Dear little hands I miss them so.

For no little hands wake me out of my dreams.

Dear little hands I miss them so.

Why the Children Want More Cereal

I AM putting a creamier, richer milk on the children's corn flakes and cereals now—they say the taste is much better—and they always come back for more. That's the proof.

You see, I found out that those shiny tins of Every Day Milk are just twice as nourishing as dairy milk—and twice as rich in cream—at much lower cost.

You don't know, unless you have tried it, how good Every Day will make your cereals—how fresh and creamy. Because it tastes so good, because it is so rich, so nourishing, and yet it costs so little—because it makes you independent of ice man and milk man—Every day use Every Day.

PRATT'S EGG MASH

It is not a poultry tonic, but a complete poultry feed, and we believe it is the best poultry mash for egg production on the market. We believe it because it is guaranteed to be a 20 per cent. protein ration and the guaranteed ingredients are corn meal, wheat flour, wheat midds, wheat bran, ground oats, digester tankage, calcium phosphate, salt and dried milk albumen, and we believe it because it was compounded after much experimenting, by Prof. Kilpatrick, who was director of the Department of Poultry Husbandry of the Ohio State University for eight years, and who now has charge of Pratt's Experimental Farms at Morton, Pa. Many people in Ohio know that any feed that Prof. Kilpatrick would offer to the public must have great merit.

The Pratt Food company knows it and is willing to back this feed with a guarantee to please you. We have a car load of this feed in our warehouse, and it is sold on a money back guarantee.

Milady's Boudoir

Charming Shoulders.
After a woman begins to approach middle age she must be very careful to care for her shoulders, for too often, unattractive creases begin to make themselves visible about the throat and the shoulders begin to be heavy or angular. This is not because the nature is tended to be robbed of these charms at this early age, but rather because our little neglects have had time to accumulate and assume visible form. All of these conditions will give value to measure the most mild. When you find out how simple it is to overcome them, you will wonder you have not come to the rescue long before this. The first agency of reform which you should call into action is the bath. You need more than just soap and water. Your skin has grown lax in these late years and must be stimulated into action. Take a benzolated bath. It is excellent for the entire body, but its use is essential every time you take your bath and wash your face, neck and shoulders. To prepare it pour into a warm or hot bath sufficient benzolated bath to make the water milky white in color. To make the bath use three ounces of cologne, one and a half ounces of tincture of camphor and three quarters of an ounce of tincture of benzoin. Unless your skin is very oily, discard soap for the toilet of face and hands, and use instead, a little oatmeal bag. They give a most attractive smoothness and softness to the skin. Take these baths at night and the following morning, after your warm sponge, spray the shoulders vigorously with cool and then warm water, until the skin is as firm as a drum, can be.

Our Boys and Girls

Thumb or finger sucking is bad for a child and the habit should be attended to at once. The thumb and finger must be persistently removed from the mouth and the baby's attention directed to something else. One way is to pin or sew the sleeve down over the fingers of the offending hand for several days or nights, or the hand may be kept looking in a cotton mitten. There are patent articles for holding the hand from the mouth, but the persistent covering of the hand usually works out very well. The baby's hands should be set free now and then to save unnecessary strain on his nerves as much as possible, but with the approach of bedtime the hand must be covered. Much work and confusion can be avoided when the children understand at night, if each child is made the possessor of a small hat or coat tree. Their clothing will be well aired, the room kept looking neat and in order and everything will be in its place in the morning. Children love these little accessories and it is a good way to teach them orderliness and hygiene. The adjustable jaws of a new wrench can be set at any angle from its handle and locked there.

always distinct, an this training gave him the power of expressing the beauties of blank verse.

"Today, when the stage is devoted almost wholly to modern drama and colloquial farce, the one requisite of the young actor is that he shall appear natural, that he must be behind the footlights what he is in his club or on the street. He must be strictly taboed; to elocute is the unforgivable sin. Consequently, while there are dozens of players of dramatic intelligence in an uncommon degree and a sufficient knowledge of technique, the speaking on the American stage is about as bad as it could be. The modern actor mumbles under his breath; his inflections are wrong; his use of his voice ignorant and careless. In modern comedy this defective elocution is bad enough; in Shakespearean and blank verse, drama—it is absolutely fatal.

STOMACH SO BAD SHE HAD LOST ALL HOPE

Suffered agony for 8 years, and then got well in a hurry.

"I suffered from stomach trouble for 8 years, and acute indigestion for 4 years. All that time I have not slept a wink before 2 in the morning, and lived on milk and soup. My stomach was one solid sore."

"Doctors said I had catarrh and neuralgia of the stomach, also female trouble for which I needed an operation. I was nothing but a living skeleton and had given up hope."

"Then my husband brought home a bottle of Milks Emulsion. From the second dose, I began eating, and now, after 10 bottles, I eat anything I want. I haven't had a pain in my stomach since the first dose, and my female trouble is fast disappearing."—Mattie Cartwright, Tyler, Texas.

The blessed relief which Milks Emulsion gives in stomach trouble, is only part of its good work. The benefit is both prompt and lasting. It costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It builds up flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak and children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

THE WANDERER

A Thrilling Tale of Life in Ancient Jerusalem.

The setting sun, disappearing over the western hills toward the distant Mediterranean, cast lengthening shadows from the great fig tree which sheltered the archway in the garden wall. Far off in the distance a single trumpet sounded faint and indistinct. A nearer trumpet, echoed and re-echoed the call, a shepherd hidden in a nearby valley took up the silvery notes upon his own instrument and sounded the tidings that the day was over.

Beginning on Monday at the Gem theater, William Farnum, the famous screen star, will be seen in the stirring Fox photodrama of Texas border days, "The Last of the Duanees," from the story by Zane Grey. Mr. Farnum plays the role of Buck Duane who, forced to kill a man, becomes an outlaw—though not a desperado. His reclamation comes ultimately through a girl, when he becomes a member of the Texas Rangers and earns his pardon from the State by cleaning up a desperate band of outlaws. Mr. Farnum, it is declared, does some of the best work of his career in "The Last of the Duanees," which naturally abounds in thrilling situations.

Bolshevism Greatest Menace To Christianity, Says Teusler

Direct Attack Upon All Religion and Church Must Do Real Fighting to Crush It.

Bolshevism is a direct attack upon Christianity and civilization and must be fought through Christianity, declares Col. R. B. Teusler, director of St. John's Episcopal Hospital in Tokio and Red Cross Commissioner to Siberia. Col. Teusler recently made a flying trip to the United States for consultation with leaders of the Episcopal Nation-Wide Campaign of Church expansion and with officials of the Red Cross.

"Bolshevism must be fought through Christianity," said he, "because Bolshevism is a direct attack upon Christianity and civilization. It may be an economic theory here, but I have seen it in actual practice. I have seen the looting of cathedrals, the burning of libraries, and the closing of schools. I have concrete evidence of the desecration of cathedral altars, where photographs were installed by the Bolsheviks for the playing of 'rag time' music to the tunes of which the mobs danced, and I have recently, formally issued by the Soviet governments, apportioning the use of women among the soldiers after the so-called 'nationalization of women' was accomplished, also by Soviet orders. This work," said he, referring to the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Episcopal Church, "is greatly needed, for right here in America these Bolshevik theories are flourishing to an amazing extent. In the United States you use the term Bolshevism in an academic sense to describe certain theories. They were theories in Russia, also, until Lenin and Trotsky got into power, since which they have become stern realities. Bolshevism as practiced there and as preached here, are as far apart as black and white. Bolshevism is murder, robbery, loot, tyranny, chaos."

At the regular review held Tuesday, District Manager W. L. DeVol was present as a guest at the smoker. Next Tuesday evening officers will be elected and three applicants will be given the work.

K. O. P.
Uniform Rank.
Licking company, U. K. of P., met Wednesday evening, Captain Lentz presiding. On account of the very bad weather the attendance was not as large as it would otherwise have been. There were 12 candidates in waiting for initiation. The work was put on in an impressive manner. Others in this class will come in the second division, which will be initiated some time next month. After a talk by the chaplain, Rev. George Bohon Schmitt, he presented to Major Volinsky an officers' jewel in appreciation of his services to the company. There were a number of visitors present, among them were Major William Appleton of Mt. Vernon and Captain Malone of Columbus. Two applications were received and referred to the committee. The next meeting, December 10, the company will start drilling. Oysters were served in the balcony after the work.

Roland Lodge.
Roland lodge gave the esquire rank to a class of nine Tuesday evening. Next Tuesday evening there will be no work as it is the date of the annual election of both subordinate and grand lodge officers. All the past Maccabees have been urged to be at this meeting. After the election a banquet will be held. Some of the members are preparing some "stunts" for this occasion.

Newark Lodge.
Newark lodge, No. 13, K. of P., will confer the esquire rank on candidates at a special meeting Monday night. The annual election of officers will be held Thursday. Last Thursday night's session was short.

AMERICAN INSURANCE UNION.
Newark chapter met Thursday evening with a large attendance. Nine applications were made and five candidates were initiated. The program of music and readings during the social hour was entertaining. The meeting Christmas night will be set aside as Junior night. The 88 Juniors will be expected to enjoy a big Christmas tree and a tree for the youngster. At the social session Friday evening, December 5, D. Lawrence Manning has charge of the program. Thursday evening, December 11, the officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

MODERN WOODMEN.
Cedar Camp, M. W. of A., met Wednesday night with a good attendance. Two applications for beneficial membership were received and acted upon. Deputy G. H. Butler reported that the county class adoption for the night of December 10 was coming along nicely and that Hebron, Croton, Alexandria, Pataskala and Johnstown camps would have some candidates for this class. The officers and team are getting in fine working order for this class. At the next regular meeting of Cedar camp the officers for the ensuing year will be elected. As the last regular meeting of Cedar Camp comes on the last day of this year, plans are being made to have an old-time meeting on that night to watch the old year out and the new year in. At the next regular meeting, a committee will be appointed to make arrangements for this meeting. The benefit of the class is beginning to come back from the head office and by the night of December 10, there will be a good number on hand for the county class adoption.

This Red Cross Christmas Seal Baby Believes in Santa: Daddy Draws Him

Introducing Mr. Ernest Hamlin Baker and an unknown young lady model whom we strongly suspect of being Miss Baker.

The artist (the larger figure wearing a smock and necktie) is the designer of the 1919 Red Cross Christmas Seal.

This cheery little sticker which makes its annual appearance just before Christmas is the symbol of the fight against tuberculosis, for it is from the sale of this seal that the National Tuberculosis Association is chiefly financed.

The seal design this year is a particularly happy one, that of genial faced Santa Claus with his pack, clearly outlined against a blue sky.

Mr. Hamlin came down from Poughkeepsie to the Big Town with his wife, "$250 of borrowed money, a college education, two years' experience newspaper cartooning and art knowledge acquired in a $15 correspondence course," to quote his own words.

It was when he got down to his last lonesome nickel that the tide of his fortunes turned. "I tried to sell a group of caricatures of noted Europeans to several magazines, but none of them would have it," he said.

"In despair I left it with one of the leading comic weeklies, and retired to the home nest to count that last nickel."

The next morning the telephone rang. The editor desired to see me. As O. Henry says, in that moment I experienced all the feelings of a multi-millionaire. In fact I no doubt touched heights inaccessible to the ordinary capitalist. That was really the high emotional spot of my New York career."

Mr. Baker's work has been largely along the lines of health, safety-first and educational subjects in general.

The National Tuberculosis Association expects to obtain $6,500,000 from this year's Red Cross Seal sale in order to carry out its nation-wide program against the White Plague.

TRINITY CHURCH WILL HONOR SERVICE MEN

On Sunday morning at the 10:30 service at Trinity Episcopal church, the demobilization of the parish service flag will take place. Archdeacon Dodson will preach on "The Foundations of American Liberty. What the Boys Fought For."

Y WORKERS WILL TELL OF DETROIT CONFERENCE

"The Y. M. C. A. and Industry," E. S. Randolph.

"The Foreign Work of the Y. M. C. A.," A. R. Evans.

"The Relation of the Y. M. C. A. to the Churches," C. F. Lender.
